

John W. Miller is Chief Economist Analyst at Trade Data Monitor, where he writes the TDM Insights column about trends and movements in global trade. Miller is a contributing writer at America Magazine and co-director of the PBS film Moundsville. Miller has written for Time, Newsweek and was a staff reporter at the Wall Street Journal from 2004 to 2016. He is currently working on his first book, for Simon&Schuster, about Earl Weaver and the role of the baseball manager.