

Owen Haacke is the owner of Empress Brokers International LLC. In this role, Owen supports companies and individuals with product sourcing, logistics management, and import compliance. Owen manages Empress's business from his hometown in Billings, Montana.

Owen held a variety of positions in the public and private sector with work focused on international trade and business. In past roles, Owen served as the Director and Chief Representative of the US-China Business Council (USCBC) Shanghai office. In this role, he regularly worked with US multinational company leadership on their strategy and led targeted research on operational best practices, supply chain challenges, and regulatory changes that impact operations of US companies operating overseas. Owen also worked at the United States Senate Committee on Finance, working with the trade policy team on multilateral trade agreement policies and legislation impacting import tariffs.

Owen holds a B.A. from Dalian University of Foreign Languages in Chinese, International Economics and Trade. He is fluent in Mandarin Chinese and spent over 10 years living and working in China. Owen is an individually Licensed U.S. Customs Broker.